

Living at home means that she never jumping out of her comfort zone. She felt less obliged to find a job to support herself. Her parents are mad because she hasn't learned to live independently even after she graduates.

Continue

Living at home means that she never jumping out of her comfort zone. She felt less obliged to find a job to support herself. Her parents are mad because she hasn't learned to live independently even after she graduates.

containing

